

Records Retention Policy

Employee records must be retained for seven years after employment ends.

Finance records must be retained for eight years.

Legal hold notices override ordinary deletion schedules.

Access to archived files requires approval from the compliance team.

Policy exceptions must be approved in writing by the General Counsel.